

Society for Phenomenology and the Human Sciences 2021 Membership Form

The Society for Phenomenology and Human Sciences is the leading academic society in the United States concerned with the continuing theoretical development and practical application of the phenomenological tradition in the human sciences. SPHS encourages the application of phenomenological methodology to specific concrete investigations of the human and social sciences. The diverse fields represented in the membership of the Society include anthropology, communication studies, counseling, education, ethnography, ethnomethodology, geography, history, linguistics, nursing, pedagogy, philosophy, political theory, psychology, social theory, and sociology.

Through our annual conference (ordinarily held in conjunction with the meetings of the Society for Phenomenology and Existential Philosophy), our website, and our listserv, the Society offers an on-going forum for sharing research in phenomenologically-oriented scholarship in the human sciences.

Annual dues are $50 for general membership and $25 for students and those with low income. Presenters at this year's annual conference must be current members of SPHS and SPEP.
(Currency listed in US dollars)

Checks for membership should be made out to SPHS and mailed, together with this form, to Lenore Langsdorf, Treasurer, at 155 J-J Lane, Center Point TX 78010.
